DID YOU KNOW?
The modern waffle cone was actually a marriage of necessity born at the 1904 St. Louis World's Fair!
An ice cream vendor ran out of clean glass bowls to serve his scoops, so the Syrian pastry maker, Ernest Hamel, in the booth next door rolled up his thin, crisp waffles into a cone shape to hold the ice cream. The two vendors literally saved each other's business that day, and the world got its most iconic way to eat dessert on the go.
